WHAT IS MEDITATION?

MEDITATION IS NOT STATIC ITS DYNAMIC, ITS DOING. SO ITS HARD TO DEFINE IT. ALL THOUGH, THROUGH AGES DIFFERENT MEANING OF MEDITATION HAVE BEEN MENTIONED.

LETS CHECK FEW OF THEM,

1 DHYANA (ध्यान): IN CLASSICAL YOGA TEXTS LIKE THE YOGA SUTRAS OF PATANJALI, MEDITATION (DHYANA) IS DESCRIBED AS A STATE OF DEEP CONCENTRATION OR CONTEMPLATION WHERE THE MIND IS FOCUSED ON A SINGLE POINT OR OBJECT. IT INVOLVES SUSTAINED ATTENTION AND MENTAL ABSORPTION, LEADING TO A HEIGHTENED STATE OF AWARENESS AND INNER STILLNESS.

2 BHAVANA (भावना): ANOTHER PERSPECTIVE FROM YOGIC SCRIPTURES REFERS TO MEDITATION AS BHAVANA, WHICH MEANS CULTIVATING OR GENERATING A PARTICULAR MENTAL ATTITUDE OR FEELING. THIS TYPE OF MEDITATION INVOLVES ACTIVELY FOSTERING POSITIVE STATES OF MIND SUCH AS LOVE, COMPASSION, OR JOY THROUGH REPEATED CONTEMPLATION AND MENTAL EXERCISES.

MANANA (मनन): MANANA, AS MENTIONED IN SOME VEDIC AND UPANISHADIC TEXTS, REFERS TO THE PROCESS OF DEEP REFLECTION AND CONTEMPLATION. IT INVOLVES PONDERING OVER PHILOSOPHICAL TRUTHS OR SPIRITUAL TEACHINGS IN ORDER TO GAIN A DEEPER UNDERSTANDING AND INSIGHT. THIS FORM OF MEDITATION EMPHASISES INTELLECTUAL REFLECTION AS A MEANS TO REALIZE HIGHER TRUTHS.

ACCORDING TO ME MEDITATION IS NOT A NOUN BUT A ACTIVE VERB. WE OFTEN MISTAKEN MEDITATION TO THE REFERENCE OF FROZEN ICE LIKE SHIVAS ADOBE WHICH IS SURROUNDED BY SNOW BUT ACTUALLY FOR ME ITS FLOWING WATER LIKE THE GANGA FLOWING FROM SHIVA.

MEDITATION CANT BE YOUR GOAL BUT IT CAN BE YOUR JOURNEY.
