YAMAS - THE ART OF RIGHTEOUS LIVING

YOU TAME A RIVER BY BUILDING A DAM ACROSS IT!
SAME WAY TO TAME THE MONKEY MIND OF HUMANS WHICH KEEPS JUMPING, WE HAVE BUILD VALUES AROUND IT TO RESTRAIN IT.

YAMAS - RESTRAINTS ARE THUS RECOMMENDED TO STOP THE OUTGOING TENDENCY OF THE MIND, WHERE WE ARE LIKELY TO GET LOST.

IT IS IN THIS ACT OF STOPPAGE OR RESTRAINT THAT WE SUCCEED IN CARRYING OUT THE NECESSARY CHANGES. WE CANNOT JUST BECOME DIFFERENT FROM WHAT WE ARE UNLESS WE ARE PREPARED TO LET GO OF SOMETHING. UNLESS WE ARE PREPARED TO SACRIFICE SOMETHING FOR THE GREATER GOOD.

ONLY WHEN WE CREATE SPACE BY LETTING GO OF OLD HABITS OR ROUTINES WHICH CAUSES US
PAIN, WE WILL BE ABLE TO WELCOME NEW HABITS & ROUTINES WHICH MAKES OUR LIFE BLISSFUL.

THE FIVE YAMAS WHICH WE CAN PRACTISE IS -

- AHIMSA (NON-VIOLENCE): PRACTICING KINDNESS AND COMPASSION TOWARD ALL BEINGS, AVOIDING HARM THROUGH THOUGHTS, WORDS, AND ACTIONS.
- SATYA (TRUTHFULNESS): COMMITTING TO HONESTY, INTEGRITY, AND LIVING IN ALIGNMENT WITH THE TRUTH.
- ASTEYA (NON-STEALING): RESPECTING OTHERS' POSSESSIONS AND ENERGIES, REFRAINING FROM TAKING WHAT IS NOT FREELY GIVEN.
- BRAHMACHARYA (DISCIPLINE FROM DESIRES): CULTIVATING SELF-CONTROL AND MODERATION, PARTICULARLY IN SENSUAL PLEASURES, TO CONSERVE ENERGY AND FOCUS.
- APARIGRAHA (NON-COVETOUSNESS): LETTING GO OF GREED AND ATTACHMENT, EMBRACING CONTENTMENT WITH WHAT IS NECESSARY.
